DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 12 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Harnden, Jr. et al. [US 4,755,706].

Claim 12, Harnden, Jr. et al. discloses a process for preparing a contact on a microswitch, the process reducing a resistance of the microswitch and maintaining a low resistance of the microswitch for many cycles, comprising: (a) forming the microswitch contact with a predetermined material [figure 11]; (b) temporarily exposing the microswitch contact to a fluid to lower a contact resistance; wherein the fluid comprises materials selected from the group consisting of oxygen, carbon tetrafluoride, sulfur hexafluoride or other fluorine-containing gases, argon and mixtures thereof [col. 1 lines 28 to 41].

Claim 20, Harnden, Jr. et al. discloses a semiconductor package having a semiconductor die [1118] connected to external pins [figure 11], the die including an active area; a microswitch formed on a surface of the die, wherein a microswitch contact is formed with a process for reducing a resistance of the microswitch and maintaining a low resistance of the microswitch for many cycles, comprising: (a) forming the microswitch contact with a predetermined material; (b) temporarily exposing the microswitch contact to a fluid to lower a contact resistance [col. 1 lines 28 to 41].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim [US 6,300,152] in view of Zavracky [US 5,638,946].

Claim 15, Kim discloses a process for preparing a contact [410, 320] on a microswich [figure 6] comprising temporarily exposing the contact to an oxygen plasma to reduce contact resistance [col. 5 lines 44 to 49].

Kim fails to teach that contact formation includes Ru.

Zavracky discloses a microswitch [figure 2a] with a contact formation that includes Ru [col. 9 lines 23 to 27].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Ru for the contact electrodes of Kim since it is a well known contact material as disclosed by Zavracky [col. 9 lines 23 to 27].

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13 and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
